'Floating' Zoning

HIGH DENSITY ZONING

The Board of Selectmen and the Planning Board are scheduled to meet next Monday at 9 pm in the Town Hall for the purpose of discussing High Density Zoning, and perhaps other subjects as well.

The first official discussion of High Density Zoning was held last night in the Mildred Rogers School, now called the Town House. The Planning Board held a public hearing, at which approximately 21 persons, many of them businessmen, were present.

The concept of High Density Zoning, the hearing was told, is to have a "floating" zoning which can be applied to areas where a lot of auto traffic may be generated. This would serve to better regulate those businesses, the meeting was told.

TEA AND RECEPTION FOR REP AND MRS FRED F CAIN

The Casa di Fior in Wilmington will be the setting this Sunday, September 13, for a Tea and Reception in the honor of Representative and Mrs. Fred F. Cain.

Serving as hostesses from Wilmington and Woburn will be Mrs. Christian G. Bachman, Mrs. Lloyd if, for instance, someone wanted to expand a business, or a new type of business which calls for a lot of auto traffic were to be located in Wilmington, the owner will be able to ask the Town Meeting for 'High Density Zoning'. In some cases perhaps the zoning may be achieved through Board of Appeals action.

One of those present at last night's hearing was Lawrence Eastman. He was the first to feel the effects of the proposed new zoning, when he applied for a permit to build a repair garage, a few weeks past, behind Louie's Oil. The permit was refused because of the pending zoning.

The land behind Louie's Oil is now owned by the Quinn Brothers of Arlington, and Mr. Eastman attended last night's hearing for the expressed purpose of finding out what High Density Zoning was.

C. Bender, Mrs. Arthur M. Borofsky, Mrs. John C. Boudreau, Mrs. Joseph F. Courtney, Mrs. C. Edward Farrey, Mrs. Rene J. LaRivee, Mrs. Theodore C. McKie, Mrs. Maurice D. O'Neil, Mrs. Colli C. Petrillo, and Mrs. Charles L. Webster.

Tea will be served from two to five o'clock in the afternoon.

Sons of Italy Hearing

State Cops Play Tuesday

SHE BECOMES THE VENERABLE TONIGHT: Eileen Wolley of Chestnut Street is shown testifying at the 'Sons of Italy Hearing' Tuesday evening in the Town Hall. She is the acting Venerable (president) of the Wilmington lodge, and is to become the Venerable in ceremonies to be held tonight. She testified that the clubhouse would be used approximately one evening a week, if built off Salem Street, as proposed.

WHAT DID WE DO WRONG?

The Wilmington High School football squad is starting the season with absolutely clean jerseys - probably the cleanest of any team in Massachusetts.

As reported elsewhere, the team had a weekend in Freedom, New Hampshire, in pre-season training.

Saturday, while the team was playing a scrimmage with Conway, Assistant Coach John Ritchie decided to have all the jerseys laundered.

He and Manager Danny MacDonald gathered all the jerseys, and drove in town to a laundromat. Ritchie bought a package of Fab, and put all the Fab into the washer, along with the jerseys.

A full box of Fab, it seems, is too much.

The two were engulfed in suds. Suds was not only coming out of the top of the washing machine, but spreading all over the floor, to other patrons.

What did we do wrong? asked MacDonald. Ritchie's answer was not recorded, but he says that those were the last football jerseys he will ever wash.

The Sons of Italy hearing, Tuesday night in the Town Hall, was relatively quiet. The chairman of the Board of Appeals put his foot down firmly against interruptions and demonstrations, and largely those present complied with his orders.

Attorney Simon Cutter, representing the Wilmington lodge, told the Appeal Board that the lodge proposes to build a club house 300 feet back from Salem Street, on an 8½ acre tract of land, with off street parking.

The site was ideal, as he described it, being in what he called a 'rural' area, with only light auto traffic.

Cutter told the Board of Appeals that the clubhouse would be used only as a meeting house, about once a week. There are no plans for a swimming pool he said, and the clubhouse is not to be a place that will be open 'morning, noon and night'.

Cutter had several witnesses who said practically the same thing, the first being Mrs. Irene Wolley, who is the Acting Venerable of the Lodge. James Capozzi of Chestnut Street

MASS & CONN STATE POLICE TO PLAY AT TOWN PARK

The Massachusetts State Police and the Connecticut State Police are to play a game of Soft Ball Tuesday, at the Town Memorial Park. The game is to start at 6 pm sharp.

This will be the first game, ever, between members of the two state police organizations. It is being played for the benefit of the Jimmy Fund.

The Massachusetts Troopers at the Andover Barracks were given the job of finding a suitable field. It had to be on a numbered route, and it had to have easy access from the super highways. In addition it should have, the Mass Troopers were told, flood lights.

Only the Wilmington field answered to all of these qualifications. The only field in Eastern Massachusetts, and perhaps in New England, on a numbered route, with lights, etc. was the Wilmington Town Memorial Park.

It is to be a big night. There will be TV, and the big dailies will cover the game. It should go over big.

Sgt. J. Palmer of the Wilmington police and Trooper Melanson of the Andover Barracks made the arrangements with town officials for the use of the field.

Three Troopers

Three of Wilmington's nine State troopers will be taking part in the game, as players for the Massachusetts police; Richard Rudnicki, Robert Magliozzi and Warren Bailey.

New Bus Schedule

MBTA SERVICE

Service on the Wilmington Bus Route has been adjusted to the patrons needs.

Weekdays, buses will leave Wilmington at 5:55 am, every hour until 8:55 am, then 10:55 am, 12:55 pm, 2:50 pm, 3:20 pm, 4:20 pm, 5:10 pm, and 7:05 pm.

They will leave Everett Station at 6:55 am, 7:55 am, 9:30 am, 11:30 am, 1:30 am, 3 pm, every hour until 8 pm, and at 11:05 from Sullivan Station.

On Saturdays, from Wilmington at 5:55 am, 6:25 am, 7:55 am; and every two hours to 5:55 pm, and from Everett Station at 7:30 am, every two hours until 5:30 pm, 7 pm and 11:05 pm from Sullivan Station.

$50 REWARD

We would very much appreciate any information pertaining to the individuals who removed virtually all of our signs last Tuesday and Wednesday evenings.

This was a well planned effort whereby these individuals climbed trees which were on private property and also removed those signs which were on stakes. They didn't vandalize the signs but removed them backing and all.

This becomes not only a great expense to replace (some already have been), but requires a great deal of time also. One homeowner got a fleeting glance of an adult in a green station wagon leaving with some of the signs.

We are offering a $50 reward for this information.

Break the Dollar Habit!

Once again the people of Wilmington come to that time of the year when contributions are made to the Wilmington Community Fund.

A contribution of one dollar may be sufficient for a national campaign, such as the Heart Fund, or the Cancer Fund, but it is hardly adequate for the Wilmington Community Fund, which solicits money only from within the Town of Wilmington.

Every year the participating agencies request larger sums of money. Costs are always rising.

If, in your household, you cannot stretch a dollar as far as you did a few years ago, how then, is it possible for the Community Fund to operate on the one dollar donation given year in and year out by the average donor?

The volunteers who operate the Community Fund would be happy if they had a magic formula for stretching that dollar - and they would be glad to pass it on, too. But the facts are that the Community Fund is feeling the squeeze and pinch of the shrinking buying power of the dollar.

The Community Fund gives aid and comfort to the townspeople in times of stress. The only way that this can continue is through the generosity of the townspeople.

This is not to disparage the dollar contribution. It is to let the people of Wilmington ask themselves "Can I give a little more for my own town?"

The Wilmington Community Fund does very well with the moneys received. The reason is simple - there are no paid employees. Expenses are kept to a minimum. The fund is administered quietly, by a dedicated group of people who seek no glory, no reward, other than the satisfaction of helping the people of Wilmington.

When a solicitor visits your home, this fall, please be generous. The Community Fund depends on You.

Thanks, Father Croke

It is probably quite doubtful that the parish priest of St. Thomas Church was thinking of the Town Crier, last Sunday, when he prayed from the altar of his church for the afflicted of this world.

The Rev. Edmund C. Croke was thinking of Vietnam, and the victims of that conflict, and he included in his prayers a prayer for Editors, and Reporters.

The good people of Wilmington have let the Town Crier know of those prayers - and they have reason to.

Last week the chronically short-handed Town Crier was more than ever in a fix, at publishing time. The staff worked all night, on Wednesday, and at 6 am Thursday, many hours late, finally produced the headline for the front page, which signified the end of that night's work.

The editor, at that last moment, debated mentally with himself on whether to use the day of the week, or the date for that story - i.e. Wednesday, or the day of the month that schools of Wilmington were to open. He decided to use the date.

Unfortunately the date was wrong, by one day. Wednesday would have been a better headline.

The Town Crier will probably never hear the end of it. But, thanks anyway, for your prayers, Father Croke.

Cornell Place Plan Approved

The plan for Cornell Place, off Fordham Road, which has pursued a tortuous way through the Planning Board for the past three months, was finally approved with minor modifications, at 1:15 am yesterday morning.

The final discussion, with some side discussions, took just two minutes short of two hours.

Cornell Place leads from Fordham Road to the area which is adjacent to Marcus Road and Route 93, - to that part of the Wilmington Industrial Park which is to the northward of the 40 acre Volkswagen plant. About 10 or 12 acres of land in the area are involved - room for several small plants - or maybe a medium sized facility.

The decisions on the area were involved, and part of the difficulty lay in the sale of some land to one of the more important of the industrial firms in the U.S. This sale left an area of less than one hundred feet wide to get a roadway into the new 10 or 12 acre plot.

Such a roadway would not be at right angles to Fordham Road, and it would be over 600 feet long, a distance which seems to have some magic meaning to the Planning Board, when it comes to approval of street plans.

Several plans had been submitted, which added to the confusion. The plans had been made to keep up with the discussion with the new firm, with other firms in the industrial area, and with the Planning Board.

Also, there had been numerous delays, occasioned by the negotiations, and there had been several requests by both the attorney, Joseph F. Courtney, and the Planning Board, for extension of the statutory time limit for consideration and decision.

At midnight Tuesday, the last extension of time, as requested by the Planning Board, was scheduled to expire. If the Planning Board had not acted on the plan by that time, it would automatically be accepted.

Several weeks ago a similar situation had developed, but there was no quorum of the Planning Board. Atty. Courtney, as reported at that time in the Town Crier "held all the Aces - and passed".

There was a quorum on Tuesday night, and it was 11:15 pm when the Planning Board finally got around to the discussion over Cornell Place. There was forty five minutes left to make a decision.

Mort Grant the "newest" member of the board, spent about twenty of these minutes discussing the length of Cornell Place, (800 feet, or 200 feet longer than he feels should be the maximum length), a Reverse Curve in the roadway (planned to slow down truck traffic), and the fact that if the adjoining land had not been sold, etc then some of the problems would not be existing. It was, he declared several times "Poor engineering and poor planning".

After a while Danny Gillis, the most experienced member of the board, sort of answered Grant.

Gillis went through the history of the Wilmington Industrial Park - how the Planning Board felt that the long road proposed (now Fordham Road) was not too good. He told how the Planning Board was forced by "popular opinion" to agree to the roadway, and other provisions. He told of the 70 foot width at the beginning of Fordham Road, and of how two members of the Planning Board refused to cooperate, and meet on a Sunday. These two members, Gillis said, were then removed from office by the then Town Manager.

This was news to Mr. Grant. He wanted to know how members of the Planning Board could be removed from office. Mrs. McKie told him that the Town Manager could remove any of them - after a hearing.

The hearing, Grant was told, was just a matter of form - and, like a Hatch Act Hearing, the decision could already have been made before the hearing was held.

Gillis continued, and reminisced a little on Selectman Niles telling the HEN Town Manager "to fire the whole damn bunch of them". The reminiscing continued a little longer - only one member of that Board of Selectmen was on the board today - but, said Gillis, they have, in the past few months, again tried to tell the Town Manager to "fire the whole damn bunch of them".

Grant was told too, that the two men who were removed from the board by the then Town Manager were not fired. They simply had their jobs terminated - the Town Manager solved the problem by reducing the Planning Board from seven to five members.

Gillis said he had had enough of the fighting. He was not going to fight about Cornell Place. If the Planning Board didn't approve - well the developer could put in driveways, such as had been done at Volkswagen.

Mrs McKie brought the board back to the present problem. She asked the Town Engineer what he thought of the reverse curves proposed in the roadway, and other engineering.

Arthur Harding said he thought the curves were designed with too small a radius - and on the other hand he did not go along with the arguments about a 600 foot limit for streets. He felt that in Industrial areas the length should be well over 600 feet.

Mrs McKie, after a while, and just before 12 o'clock, moved that the plan be accepted with conditions - the conditions being outlined by her and other members as the Town Engineer had suggested, his objections to the curves, and to his idea that there should be a curve taking off the corner of one of the abutting lots. A third condition was that the parking lot of one of the abutting industrial plants should exit onto Cornell Place.

Finally, after haggling over the details, the board was ready, and at 12:17 am Mort Grant seconded the motion of Mrs. McKie.

Gillis pointed out that the plan should be for a roadway of 700 feet, instead of the 600 that the Planning Board was going to allow, to the cul-de-sac. Mr. Grant would not agree. He thought there was already a "reasonable" lot and plan.

For the first time Joe Courtney perked up. He had just been sitting there - listening to the board's discussions.

"What", he asked Mr. Grant, "is Reasonable?"

Grant said a size lot that would allow something like the new plant to be built - or General Electric. He did not elaborate, and Courtney settled back into his chair again.

The haggling continued over the details of the plan. The Town Engineer, using a colored pencil, sketched out on the plan of the roadway the probable effect of the curves, as mentioned in the motion of Mrs. McKie.

At 12:37 Courtney spoke up again. He pointed out to the Planning Board that the conditions they were imposing constituted, in effect, a "non-approval" of the plan.

The curves, Courtney said, required the use of property just sold to the new firm, and this was property which the developer could no longer control.

But the discussions continued. Finally, at 12:42 am Courtney really spoke up - in that rapid fire delivery manner of his, when he has all the facts marshalled.

In short Courtney told the Planning Board that it was using its powers with no regard for the public interest, in making a ridiculous layout, which certainly was not in the best interest of the town. He continued for about five minutes.

Grant: "He has just stated that we are imposing conditions which will prevent the use of the land. I do not agree. If the developer had not sold the other land - that imposed the conditions - the developer is just money hungry!"

"Because of that - I move the question". It was 12:50 am.

But the question did not yet come to a vote. Mr. Gillis carefully skirted around the parliamentary procedure, to explore the statements made by Courtney, as to the reverse curves, etc.

At 1:03 am Courtney, obviously a little nettled, pointed out acidly: "I would also like to call the attention of the Planning Board to the fact that you have already approved of this plan. The statutory deadline for action by the Planning Board expired at midnight - and the plan has thus been approved by default!"

Gillis: "I know - I thought of that at three minutes to twelve!" He soon put on his coat and walked to the doorway. "Six o'clock in the morning comes very soon" he said.

But he didn't go out. The other members dropped the pretence of closing debate, and redrafted a motion which was finally suitable, and which accepted the plan.

The vote was three to one, with Mr. Grant voting against. The plan as approved had only one technical change, pertaining to manhole connections. Otherwise it conformed to the original preliminary plan submitted to the Planning Board last spring.

Send your announcements to Nancy, Box 208, Wilmington, or call 657-7141, and after five, 658-4865. If I'm not there I'll call you.

Hey there, You Guys and Dolls This is the week...and they'll be all back in school, we hope, so the bikes and dogs won't be a hazard on the street...Lots of times this summer, we wondered if it would be them or us...and by the way, it's a wonder that the School Department in this Town wouldn't do something about a safety course for bike riders...Right?

The TM and his Mrs and Big Bender and his Mrs just returned brown and happy from a trip to Spain...A card to the Boss said that the TM was learning the Flamenco for Selectmen's Meetings...and he was staying an extra month (With or without pay there Chief... and let us know when the exhibit will be on...We wouldn't miss that one for the world...or will you hold that one until the Special Town Meeting where it looks like we'll all be dancing!)

Adult couple classes for Square Dancing will be held by the Yankee Twirlers Square Dance Club at the Turkey School on Russell Street in West Woburn on Tuesday nights at 8 pm...with the Free Introductory Night Monday, the 14th...All adult couples invited.

Youth Hockey Carnival this week started yesterday and will run through Sunday in the Parking Lot at Ricky's

Dog House...Two bicycles to be given away on Saturday and two more on Sunday...So, there you are folks... for the kids and hope the weather clears up...for all of their sakes!

Did you know that Pete Simard, son of Mr and Mrs George Simard of 32 Aldrich Road, is now serving with the 41st Engineer Company in Vietnam...His little lady the Vietnam...His little lady, the former Maureen O'Reilly, and Mike 2 and Kathy 9 mos. are living in Rockville Connecticut...

Johnny Parker came from VietNam last week unscathed and then went to the stock car races last Sunday and drove...result was a fractured hand, which will lay him up for two months or more...Consequently he's in the Hale Hospital in Haverhill and would like cards from you all.. There you go, Gals!

Are you catching that Tea and Reception in honor of Rep and Mrs Fred F Cain of 128 West Street on Sunday That will be at Al Fiorenza's Casa di Fior...from 2 to 5...and is for ladies only...That, Gals, really does it...Wonder if Fred can survive that one to run for the election!

Dropped into the Depot...our old Pad in which the Fred F Headquarters are now established to see Jo O'Neal...and boy, are those Janes organized...It puts this Chick to shame That's a good spot, you have there, Girls...Now, Go it!

Those Methodists will be starting this year with a bang on Friday Night with a covered dish supper and Rev Mack Stokes, who'll speak 8 times in the 3 days...so catch one of those inspiring programs...Call Co Fullerton at 658-4519 any morning for further info...And speaking for Methodists...This Gal will certainly be sorry to see Lurena Pembroke leave us this week, but know that Willie's loss is Wareham's gain...and besides it gives us a coffee stop on our way to Martha's Vineyard...So lots of luck in your new home, there, Pembroke, but we will miss you!

This puts it where it's at from the St Thomas Bulletin this week credited to Cardinal Cushing...and as you really do know by now...is also one NN's personal opinion: 'IF all the sleeping folks will wake up, and all the lukewarm folks fire up, and all the dishonest folks will confess up, and all the disgruntled folks will sweeten up, and all the discouraged folks will cheer up, and all the depressed folks will look up, and all the estranged folks will make up, and all the gossipers will shut up, and all the dry bones will shake up, and all the true soldiers will stand up, and all the Church members will pray up - THEN, you can have the world's greatest renewal.' Me thinks that these may be the most famous words the Cardinal did have ever to say, and most appropriate to leave behind on his retirement from his fine job here!

Coffee and Orientation Day at School for the new teachers hit us on an overlapping day...so had small time to spend with them, but seem like a real good group...and had the privilege of meeting Susie Houghton and JJ this week...They are just as nice as the Pere represented them to be...Welcome aboard there Sue...and that JJ is a living doll

Alternate Route 129 County Commissioners Give Go-Ahead

The Middlesex County Commissioners, Tuesday, granted approval to petitions asking that a reconstruction of Andover Street be laid out, along with a relocation of Route 129, including a bridge over the 'Wildcat' branch of the Boston & Maine R.R.

The petition for the laying out of a new Route 129 other than the proposed bridge was approved by James E. Milano, counsel for the Boston & Maine Railroad. He reported the railroad to be in favor.

On the petition for the planning of a bridge over the Boston & Maine, the railroad was again in favor.

With no further debate the Commissioners then voted in favor of granting the petition, unanimously. They explained that the granting of the petitions was not an approval for construction, but only an 'ok' to start the planning of the projects. There will be more hearings at a later date.

A Public Service Report From Representative Fred F. Cain

CAIN GETS $150,000 MORE IN 1970

More Money For Highways Says Cain

The Massachusetts legislature, before the end of the 1970 session, voted more funds for Wilmington highways. Rep. Fred F. Cain has reported from his hospital bedside in the Massachusetts General Hospital.

$150,000 was appropriated for the alternative Route 129, which is to by-pass Wilmington Square. The money, Cain says, is in the Middlesex County Budget, as voted.

This brings the total in the Route 129 budget for Wilmington to $300,000. There is still about $50,000 in the Nichols Street Bridge account, which, if not used for sidewalks, could be used on other bridges, according to Cain, and the $100 thousand appropriated by the Town of Wilmington as matching funds for bridges brings the total of funds available to $450,000 for roads and bridges in Wilmington.

NOSEY NANCY (FROM PAGE FIVE)

Caught the Sons of Italy Do in Woburn last Sunday nite with Fran Gray and had a ball...Imbimbo and Miceli were both there grinning and gaining votes...and Mag was quite a smash in that pants suit...We glas decided thou that in spite of our datter's instructions these Swing-in Grandmas had not just better appear in the tops...only...in spite of the fact they're sposed to be dresses...Hm...Other guests we noted from this part of the county were Fran's sister and her husband, Polly and Harvey Jordan and their weekend guests from New Jersey, and Sal and Sylvia Fantasia from Chestnut Street, and the Schenas from Washington Avenue and do doubt many more...and...now hear this...all of you...this Chick has been to those Do's almost long enough now, so that she's beginning to be able to do the Hully Gully without falling over everybuddy else...and the Greek Dance without her knees crackin...but she'll have to learn the Italian some place else, cause no one talks it there...But we had lots of fun...Thanks, Fran!

And Rose Marashio of Woburn gave us a real thought this week, and says it so much better than this Gal could put it...but this Gal's message just the same...is...The only person that does not make a mistake is the one who does nothing...How about that one? Thanks, Rose!

So, have ya recovered yet, Ma? Well, this Chick hasn't...Snapped the Black Snake on the Clan over Labor Day and that's what it was...really Labor Day at the Hut...Now...all of them hate Ma, but the yard is clean except for that partial Nomad...the cellar is...well, better...and the house is painted waiting on Frankie Griffin's choice brown paint...and if it doesn't hurry from New Jersey...by the end of this week...we'll probably be 3/4's til next Spring, cause TA Soccer Season will be on when those Brains go back next week...and that lasts until Thanksgiving...Well, Hi-di-hi...that's the story of this Gal's life...All in 3/4's...and that's NOT waltz time we're talkin on...Well, anyway...at least No 5 Son left the side towards the woods as the one with no paint! Now, that kid has got it!

Now, provided we get through the book conference, the School Committee Seance, which will still be going on next week...at the rate those go...and everyone stays in their stallis while Ma tries to sell some houses...we'll see ya next week...Love ya!

Letter

Dear Larz:

I went to the special school committee meeting that was held on Wednesday night, September nd for the purpose of explaining to the public how the school committee arrived at the decision that the building of a new high school would be more feasible than starting an extensive building addition program.

I think it was regretable that most of the public missed the meeting. The school committee's presentation was very informative. I went to the meeting with an open mind, as I feel everyone should be when they don't know the facts behind the two programs. No one but the school committee knows all the facts and they have decided that a new high school is needed. I really cannot understand how so many people could miss such an important meeting. The proposal for a new high school involves everyone who has children whether it be in the first grade or the twelfth grade.

I recently worked on a petition for a public kindergarten program. Some of the parents who only had high school age children were not interested in a public kindergarten. On the other hand, I noticed that there were not many young people at the meeting Wednesday night, showing an interest in a new high school. What is definitely needed here is a coalition between the two groups so that all our children will benefit from a school system we can be proud of. There were 435 names on my petition asking the school committee for a public kindergarten for 1971. I think everyone who signed that petition should be willing in return to listen to the school committee's proposal for a new high school.

I understand there will be another special meeting to inform the public about the particulars of the proposed new high school. I sincerely hope everyone will try their best to attend. You'll probably be surprised to learn that the cost of a new high school is almost the same as the cost for building additions to our present schools. A new high school would alleviate these future expansion problems now and give our high school students the best educational facilities available. It would also give us ample space for our public kindergarten.

ties available. It would also give us ample space for our public kindergarten.

Sons of Italy Hearing

was another witness who said that the lodge would be open only for meetings.

The opposition to the clubhouse was led by Atty Fred Corum of Salem St., and consisted of two groups, one from Salem Street, and the other from the vicinity of Marjorie Road (Silver Lake). There are stories that the club plans to use Marjorie Road instead of Salem Street, for an entrance to the club house.

John Neville of Royal Street, near the proposed site of the Clubhouse, told the hearing that many residents of the area had spoken against the clubhouse being off Salem Street.

Several residents of the Marjorie Road area spoke, saying that they feared that an "access road" would be built to their area.

Mrs Lillian Corum, wife of Atty Corum, in commenting on Cutter's testimony, told the Board of Appeals that the area was not a real rural area, and that there was heavy week end traffic. Two 'S' curves, on Salem Street, she said, were really dangerous.

Hit by his own Man

HE ALMOST WON: Bill Ballou, of Wilmington(344) shown racing in Lisbon, Maine, last Sunday, where he almost won, until knocked out of the race by a teammate.

Bill Ballou of the Competition Cycle Center on Ballardvale Street is a member of the shop's racing team. He has pulled in quite a few first place trophies.

Sunday, in racing competition in Lisbon, Maine, Bill was out in front when he was knocked out of the race by a collision. The worst part of the situation was that the collision was with another member of his team, Edgar Hinton of Tewksbury.

Neither was hurt. In fact, Ballou raced again Monday and took a first place prize at Munson, Mass.

Competition Cycle Center maintains a racing team which participates in events throughout the Northeastern part of the country. The eight members are Charlie Ballou, Team Manager, Bill Ballou, Charlie's brother, Richard Justice of Brand Ave., Edgar Hinton of Tewksbury, Don Harrison of Church Street, Richard Keller of West Street, Bob Paquette of Springfield, and Peter Lamppu of Winchester, No. 1 in the New England Scrambles in the 250 and the Open Expert Classes.

THE LAWRENCE MARINE RESERVE UNIT

The Marinespell it out in advance. Boot Camp is tough. Maybe the toughest nine weeks of a young man's life. But when he comes out, He's a Marine ... and he knows it was worth it. Boot Camp is just part of the training of every man who joins the six month program of our own very own Lawrence Marine Corps Reserve Unit.

Boot Camp successfully completed, all Marines find their way to either Camp Pendleton, Calif., or Camp Lejeune, North Carolina, to attend a course in advanced infantry training and then to another part of the country where he will be trained to perform his military specialty. The mission of the Lawrence Marine Reserve Unit requires that the members be technically trained in occupational fields that will benefit both the Marine Corps and the local community.

On completion of 6 months of active duty the man is as much a Marine as any other, and he returns to Lawrence to assume his civilian endeavors and service with the Lawrence Marine Corps Reserve Unit.

The Lawrence unit has limited openings for officers and men who desire to satisfy their military obligations by serving as a Marine Reservist in the Lawrence Marine Corps Reserve Unit. If a young man wants to serve his country as a Marine Reservist, he should go to the Marine Reserve Training Center, North Parish Road, in Lawrence, and talk to someone who will spell it out in advance. The number is 682-0049

NEVER RODE ON A STEAM TRAIN. VISITED BOSTON. RODE ON A TROLLEY CAR.

Yet Henry Wilson, a Mechanical Genius, Has Lived More Than Thirty Years at Wilmington, Within 15 Miles of the Hub of the Universe.

THE HOME OF HENRY WILSON.
WILMINGTON, MASS.

SCHOONER YACHT BUILT
BY HENRY WILSON.

HENRY WILSON POSING FOR HIS
YACHT

To literally obey the command of "holi writ" about being in the world and at the same time not being of it, is apparently no hardship for Henry Wilson of Wilmington, this state.

It seems almost incredible that a man over 30 years of age, in fairly good health and of average natural intelligence should pass his life within 15 miles of a great city and never visit it. Such, however, is true in the case of Henry Wilson. He has not only never visited Boston, but he has never ridden on a steam train or an electric car.

He can look across the fields in front of his house and watch the "modern Pegasus" go panting by with human freight toward the great city; the trolley car whizzes past his back door; but if he has had even the slightest desire to ride behind the "iron horse" or on the "broomstick train," he has never made it known to others.

The greatest distance he was ever known to travel away from home was when, at the age of 5, he was taken to a fair in Woburn.

This wonderful record seems stranger still, when it is learned that he was never seen in church but two or three times in his life, and that was over 20 years ago, and his school days numbered only about 20.

He has never known the pleasure of the companionship of boy or girl, never attended a party, church supper or a country dance, and through his life of isolation and his ignorance of the gentler sex, he has lived so far contented.

He is a fair scholar, plays the organ and, above all, possesses mechanical ability to a very great degree. When asked how he spends his time, he can reckon," he adds, "it cost me over $300 to make this model."

The yacht is a beautiful piece of workmanship, and would be a credit to any man who was a master of the shipbuilding art, and is still more so to him, because he has never seen a yacht or schooner in his life, and got his ideas from what others told him and what little he has read.

He has a beautiful model of a church, which he has made for a birdhouse, and some very ingenious windmills, that are a wonder to the people for miles around.

His mother married a second time when he was very young, and he went to live with two grand aunts. As he was rather a delicate child, they feared that if he was allowed to do as other children did, he would not live to grow up. So he was reared apart from the rest of the world, with no companions but the two old ladies, who kept him always with them and trained him in such a manner that ere long all desire to mingle with the outside world and his fellow beings had gone from Henry Wilson.

One of the old ladies has died, but Henry and the other live happy and comfortable in the old house where their ancestors have dwelt for generations.

points to the beautiful model of a schooner yacht, complete in every detail.

"During the winter," he says, "I spend most of the hours with my tools, and in the summer I plant a garden and work on the place. As near as I

A very effective way to prevent water and snow from freezing in gutters is to run an electric heating cable along the gutter at the critical points.

Controlled by a thermostat, such a cable will prove very effective. One common winter complaint against gutters is that they hold ice, making it impossible for snow and water to run off freely, and causing them to leak through the roof and wall.

This is due to the wrong placing of the gutter. It should be so hung that its outer edge is in line with or lower than the angle of the roof.

Snow and ice can then slide over the outer edge of the gutter where otherwise they would catch.

Catch your minor repairs before they become major ones. For all your supplies, see us at AB SWEZEY INC., 615 Main St 658-2051. The High School football team, this year, had a week at a camp in Freedom, New Hampshire, for pre-season training. They returned home last Saturday afternoon, and Coach Bellissimo was pleased with the results. The climax of the training camp was a game scrimmage against Kennett High School, of Conway, N.H., on Saturday morning, with three units seeing action.

A cookout was held after the scrimmage, with players and their parents getting together to discuss the events of the week. Some photographs taken during the week are shown

How to look for mortgage money and not find it.

By all means, go look for it yourself.

Not all lending institutions are in the mortgage business. And in these days of tight money, not all of those that are have money to lend.

But there is mortgage money available, if you know how to find it.

That's where we come in. We're Realtors.

We may know of a house for sale where you can assume the existing mortgage. Or a lending institution with money available. Or a private investor who's interested.

In every case, we're pledged to a strict code of ethics. In your best interest.

So use us to your best advantage. That's what we're here for.

What are some of the things you should remember to do when moving?

Be sure to get all the necessary keys. It's surprising how many people forget this!

Arrange to have the lights, gas, and water turned on. Be sure the utility companies know there's been a change of ownership.

Have your telephone connected. You might want to arrange a hose-warming party!

Notify the post office of your new address. Arrange for all needed deliveries, such as milk, newspapers, etc.

Finally, take a long, slow drive around your new neighborhood. In this way you can locate stores, parks, etc.

These reminders will make your moving into a new home more convenient. Don't forget, your broker can hasten that wonderful day when your new 'house' becomes your 'home'.
